

#Chocolate and #Nashville – the sweetest combo!

There's lots to love in Nashville, including our own chocolatier: Olive & Sinclair, makers of Southern Artisan chocolate™. The building they inhabit – 1628 Fatherland in East Nashville – has a rich history; the site once served as an H. G. Hill grocery store, later the Archway Cookie company. Olive & Sinclair refurbished it for their needs with roasters, tempering units, melangers (stone mills), and other machines. You can book a 30-45 minute tour of the site and sample the sights, smells, and tastes of their fabulous chocolate creations. Olive & Sinclair, the only “bean to bar” artisan chocolate maker, has an array of products from which to choose. Try the Mexican-style cinnamon chili chocolate bar, the bourbon nib brittle, sea salt caramels, or the buttermilk white chocolate bar.
